1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

2. Claims 1-3, 23-24 and 26-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hatch et al (5,471,217).

As per claim 1, Hatch et al disclose a method, comprising the steps of:

Obtaining pseudo-range code measurements and carrier-phase measurements (col. 5, lines 32-33) for a plurality of satellites (col. 1, line 16);

For each of the plurality of satellites, forming a smoothed refraction-corrected code measurement based on the pseudorange code measurements and carrier-phase measurements from the satellite; and

Computing clock corrections for the plurality of satellites based on the smoothed refraction-corrected code measurements. (See col. 5, lines 12-44 and col. 6, lines 5-

Art Unit: 2138

43). Hatch et al do not disclose the frequency is a dual-frequency. However, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made to modify the single frequency receiver to dual-frequency receiver as desired when needed. This is because Hatch et al disclose that various modifications maybe made and it is also applicable to stand-alone GPS receivers of any type to provide a technique for smoothing code measurements with carrier phase measurement to obtain a more accurate measure of pseudo-range, over a much longer time period that previously possible. (See abstract and col. 11, lines 19-19-34).

As per claims 2-3, 23-24 and 26- 27, these claims are rejected under similar rationale as set forth in claim 1.

3. Claims 4-9 and 25 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. Claims 10-22 and 28 are allowable.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Phung My Chung whose telephone number is 571-272-3818. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Friday.
